Powell's City of Books

Four stories tall and covering an entire city block, Powell's City of Books houses over a million new, used, and rare titles. From its humble beginnings in 1971, Powell's has become one of the biggest independent bookstores in the world, with five locations and a renowned website.

9am-11pm / every day of the year

Readings + Booksignings

Every year, hundreds of authors visit Powell's to read from their work, meet their fans, and sign thousands of books. To stay abreast of events or to preorder signed editions from visiting authors, check out our online calendar and sign up for our weekly Events email at www.powells.com/calendar.

Sell Us Your Books

Every day, Powell's buys books at our Portland-area stores. We also buy books at Powells.com, offering payment in online credit or cash via PayPal. Visit www.powells.com/sell for more information and buying hours.

In-Store Pickup

Let Powell's gather your books with our free in-store pickup service. Place your order on Powells.com and choose in-store pickup as your shipping method when you check out. For complete details, visit www.powells.com/info/pickup.

Powells.com

Did you know that Powells.com offers the combined inventory of Powell's five retail locations, plus that of five warehouses—approximately four million books in all? The website features author interviews and essays, as well as staff recommendations, weekly guest bloggers, and daily sweepstakes.
